To Whom It May Concern:

Zillion Technology Services

I am writing this letter with the up most level of recommendation in utilizing services provided by Zillion Technology Services. We have been working with Zillion Technology Services since September 2008; during which, they have provided our company with excellent support with projects requiring applications of PHP, CAKE and .NET. Their attention to detail and willingness to communicate for clarification is second to none. We have always been able to confirm complete understanding from one another, which attributes to completing projects in the time estimated. Zillion Technology Services has a very educated team of individuals on staff assisting throughout project developments. I have worked with a number of these individuals first hand and mark at the professionalism, eagerness and willingness to learn more and understand clearly. I look forward to future projects; of which, Zillion Technology Services will be our premier destination of outsource assistance.

I can confidently recommend Zillion Technology Services as a solid and reliable outsource company, and experts in their field.

Yours Faithfully,
